MEASURE UP

As part of an investigation into taking measurements and collecting data the students of 8 Flannery measured their heights. The collected data was then arranged into dot plots, stem and leaf plots, histograms and frequency tables and summary statistics were calculated as part of the process of looking at how statistics can be used to help people analyse and understand the world around them.

A DAY AT THE CARNIVAL OR "I WASTED TIME, AND NOW DOTH TIME WASTE ME"

Our boys from 9R represented the school at the State Shakespeare Carnival on Sunday 30th June at the Seymour Centre. We were represented in two categories: The Group Mash up where students take a scene from a Shakespeare play and write with a contemporary take and perform and smart phone five minute movie.

Oliver Bauer 9R took inspiration from Richard II and wrote a contemporary court room political drama examining the political issues of our time. The boys performed amazingly against students from across the state to come in third place. Theatre director for Sport for Jove theatre company, Damien Ryan praised the boys for their gritty representation of political issues making particular comment on their honesty in performance. The boys were a stand out performance.

Oliver was commended for his performance abilities including his use of voice as an actor with a large professional space to fill.

Louis Tran was our smartphone movie creator and presented an amusing examination of power, loyalty and friendship on the handball court. This too was a fabulous effort as he had made it to state level.

ADVANCED ENGLISH - THE OUTSIDER

Year 11 Advanced English students concluded their Term 2 unit, Narratives that Shape Our World - The Outsider in Shakespeare's Othello and Tracy Chevalier's New Boy with a series of class debates. The debates involved the students adopting a position and sustaining a line of argument with supporting evidence from their understanding of the texts studied and the module.

The topics were -

- 'Shakespeare was a racist',
- 'The hero of a Shakespearean play always contributes in some measure to the disaster in which he perishes',
- 'Fears and desires blind people to the true nature or motives of other characters',
- 'Iago was the true hero of Othello; Ian was the true hero of New Boy' and
- 'Texts need to be appropriated into new contexts to be valued'

The Year 11 students enjoyed articulating their ideas in their debates, enhancing their critical thinking skills.

TOTEM ANIMAL MASKS AND MIXED MEDIA COLLAGES

Year 8 has been busy exploring notions of “Self” through many different medias and forms. Initially they created masks as totem spirit animals that best represented them. What qualities of the animal did they embody? How have different people from different cultures represented themselves through masks and why? They had the difficult task of sculpting their masks using a variety of egg cartons and toilet paper rolls. Masking tape became our best friend when it came to holding our designs together. Students had to problem solve and think critically about how they were going to sculpt their designs using the resources they had available to them. Then they had to Papier Mache their masks, followed by decorating them, to emphasise their animal characteristics. This required them to develop different skills to help resolve their works. As you can see, they engaged with the task and created some terrific designs. To continue on the theme of self-exploration, Year 8 has moved into the 2-D realm and created mixed media collages to reveal a story about who they are and their interests. This has been an interesting experience creating self-portrait paintings while showing restraint in the collages. We are looking forward to the finished pieces! Wonderful work Year 8.

Ken Thai day Snr. is a senior indigenous artist from The Torres Strait Islands who is known for his totemic Animal sculptures and dance masks.

Ciara Phelan is a Collage Illustrator and Textile Designer based in London. She specialises in mixing analogue and digital media both on screen and with a scalpel to create playful, colourful and dynamically composed illustrations.

SCIENCE

This term Year 7 students have been busy with forces and mixtures; developing an understanding of contact and non contact forces. Be it gravity, magnetism, static electricity or friction, students were engaged in solving problems and in extending their learning with Education Perfect.

Year 12 has been occupied with plenty of experiments at University of Sydney for their Chemistry and Physics excursions. They worked on instruments worth $160000 doing experiments to analyse spectra on Ultra Violet- Visible, Infra red, Nuclear Magnetic Resonance, Atomic absorption Spectroscopy. This was followed by plenty of different types of titration experiments and gravimetric analysis.

In Physics students explored the world of electromagnetism and the last module of universe and atom.

Year 10 students enjoyed learning about motion, Newton's laws and used this knowledge to design a parachute carrier for an egg to be safely transported from the second floor of G block. Four groups won the challenge.

HISTORY DAY 2019

On Friday 28th June 2019, the History and PDHPE Faculty held History Day at Ashfield Boys High School. The day consisted of three main events, a morning assembly celebrating different parts of History, the History Ironman Competition and the afternoon concert performed by The Magical History Tour Band.

The Morning Assembly featured a range of guest figures from History. Among those making an appearance were Otzi the Iceman, Julius Caesar and the Terracotta Warriors from the Qin Dynasty in China. The assembly also featured a recreation of the 1960's Freedom Rides that highlighted the important issues relating to Indigenous Australians' Rights and Freedoms.

Special thanks must go to the Year 10 History students whose efforts made this possible and Ms Jovicic for her tireless help with the various costumes, props and posters that made the morning assembly especially memorable.

After recess the annual History Iron Man Competition began involving all of Year 10. The competition was a series of physical, problem solving and code breaking challenges based on history and was consistent with the course content the students studied throughout the year. Students moved rapidly through five stations where points were allocated based on student performance. Once all the stations were completed five winners were declared based on who had accumulated the most points. Five students were then set a further round of challenges in the hall to determine the History Iron Man of 2019.

It was a tough final with several challenges presented to the students. They had to compete against each other to construct a model pyramid, assemble an archaeological artefact and test their understanding of time and sequence. Points were awarded for each challenge. The final was concluded with 25 questions from history which came down to the final few questions for a winner to be declared. Congratulations to finalists, Minh Thang Pham, Ethan Krumins, Silas Newton and Michael Myant who all came close to winning but the History Iron Man winner for 2019 was Alek Cada.

Well done to all the boys on the day. They competed with enthusiasm and in good spirit.

History Day concluded with a History Concert featured the Magical History Tour, a band of Year 10 students who, along with Mr Chatwin, performed a set list of songs from the 1970's and 1980's. The music included blazing renditions of songs by classic artists such as Deep Purple, Queen, Black Sabbath and Goanna. The history of the school was acknowledged by a rousing performance of AC/DC's anthem Let There Be Rock. Another highlight was Mr Pieterse making a guest performance on the saxophone for a version of the Thin Lizzy's classic Don't Believe A Word. The final highlight of the concert was our special guest "Bryan Ferry" joining the band with Mr Pieterse and the ABHS brass section for an unforgettable performance of the hit song Let's Stick Together.

The Magical History Tour band are Wesley Stewart (vocals), Luca Coren (guitar), Blake Williams (bass guitar), Owen Famler (drums) and Mr Chatwin (guitar).

A big thank you to all staff for embracing the day and making it such a great success.

The Under 13 Boys Rugby Union team has had an excellent season. The team, led by Captain Sammi Chalak, have gone from strength to strength with each game, further developing their skills. With wins against Asquith, Epping and Homebush. While most of the boys are new to rugby union, they have shown enthusiasm and good sportsmanship.
